"There will always be a market for the very finest."

As the new owners of Dunham's of Maine, we share a belief. Despite fluctuations in the economy, the advent of mass production technology, and the decline of personal service in many stores, there will always be a select clientele who appreciate and purchase the very finest gentlemen's and ladies' clothing and furnishings.

It was on this premise that Dunham's of Maine was founded in 1887. And it is in this commitment to our legacy that is expressed in the selection of our clothing and the personal service of every single member of the Dunham's family in meeting your needs.

We believe in the elegance of natural fabrics and fibers, and wherever possible, we have made the effort to offer you the very finest of nature's own materials. We have selected synthetic blends only where they represent unusually good value and durability. Of course, our offerings in the Fall Collection catalog run the gamut from luxurious cotton shirtings from D & J Anderson, elegant silk cravats from Liberty of London, soft cashmere jackets and outercoats to long wearing woolens from the finest mills here and abroad.

We are dedicated to personal service. The overwhelming majority of our catalog orders are shipped the same day we receive the order. If we cannot ship the same day, we will send you a note informing you of the exact shipping date. We stand behind every product we sell . . . you must be completely satisfied . . . and we will promptly exchange, substitute or refund any item.

We stand ready to assist you via our catalog or through our store in Waterville. You'll find our merchandise, our policies and our people the "very finest".
